

Local Learning Providers

Dear Business Colleague,

Were you aware of the range of training and skills development opportunities available in Huntingdonshire to help you develop your workforce?

The Huntingdonshire Learning Partnership includes Huntingdonshire Regional College, Huntingdonshire District Council, Information Advice and Guidance (IAG), schools and specialist training organisations. Its aim is to increase collaboration between learning providers in Huntingdonshire and promote lifelong learning.

Feedback from businesses in the area has shown that they were not aware of the range of opportunities to train and develop employees that exists within the district. For this reason we have created the directory of learning providers on the next page, which includes direct links to each provider's website (where available). An A3 paper copy, for displaying on notice boards, can be requested by contacting Julie Drummond at Huntingdonshire District Council (see below).

Further information on what each provider can offer is available from their websites or by contacting the individual providers using the telephone numbers listed.

We hope you find this directory useful. We would welcome any feedback on the directory; please contact Julie Drummond, telephone (01480) 388074 or email julie.drummond@huntsdc.gov.uk.

Yours sincerely,
